

Happy National Employee Benefits Day!

This day was created to celebrate and recognize plan sponsors and benefit professionals for their dedication in providing quality benefits that make helpful changes to employee lives. Today we would like to highlight the important role "you" provide within this field.

The attorneys at Haynes Benefits strive to provide practical legal counsel and education to help you and your clients work through the intricacies of ERISA and HR compliance, preparing you for whatever comes next. Thank you for letting us be your constant through another year in employee benefits compliance.
